

ROYAL HIGHLAND CENTRE

Truckfest Scotland Brings Action-Packed Event to Royal Highland Centre This August

Awe-inspiring trucks, heart-stopping stunt shows and family-friendly events offer the ultimate day out from August 3 - 4

For over 40 years, Truckfest has delivered one of Europe's most thrilling motoring experiences, not just for truck enthusiasts, but anyone with a keen sense of awe and adrenaline. This year, Truckfest Scotland is set to host one of its most exciting editions yet - transforming the Royal Highland Centre into a hotspot for the very latest in monster trucks, BMX and trucking all within a dazzling arena stunt show.

Audiences can look forward to revelling in car-crushing Monster Truck Action which sees the return of fan favourites Swamp Thing and Slingshot; The UK's top-ranked freestyle motocross riders take flight in Broke FMX, with heart-stopping tricks the likes of which are usually only seen on TV; and those brave enough can even become part of the action by taking a ride in the real Slingshot truck. In addition, Truckfest continues to offer one of the most diverse and wide-ranging looks at the haulage and trucking industry, exhibiting incredible trucks of all shapes and sizes including American rigs, customised trucks, emergency vehicles & vintage trucks.

Truckfest Scotland offers a top-class day out for families of all kinds of interests with a host of iconic children's characters to meet and a plethora of carnival attractions to enjoy such as inflatable slides. Fans of the hit reality show Ice Road Truckers also have plenty to be excited about, as legendary trucker Todd Dewey joins this year's event as a special celebrity guest. There will also be a competition for one lucky participant to have their truck airbrushed for free by Kev at Nimbus Airbrush Art, available now to enter via the Truckfest website.

INSERT QUOTES HERE

Start your engines and book now to get the best price and enjoy exhilarating rides from some extraordinary vehicles all while having the chance to meet some of the industry's most exciting personalities.

2024 tickets are now on sale: <https://www.truckfest.co.uk/truckfest-scotland/>

For all media enquiries, and to organise press tickets, please contact ewan.shand@premiercomms.com

ENDS

Notes to Editors

About the Royal Highland Centre

As Scotland's largest indoor and outdoor venue, the Royal Highland Centre attracts over one million visitors each year; offering versatility for event owners, with over 18,000m² covered exhibition space, a substantial outdoor area including 110-acres of parkland, main arena, track area, countryside area and parking for 15,000 vehicles. A range of indoor and outdoor spaces are easily adaptable to any event: from agricultural shows to AGMs to Dog Shows, the professional and experienced team at RHC are dedicated to meeting a wide range of needs.

Perhaps best known for large events such as the Royal Highland Show, the venue also regularly plays host to events such as concerts, gigs, motoring events, exhibitions, conferences, live sport, meetings and functions.

The Royal Highland Centre's purpose built track is the original home of Scottish Motorsport and is still used today. The Centre's flexibility makes it an ideal choice for motoring and track based events. The track itself is a big draw and is used in a variety of ways; from test driving vehicles, showcasing new vehicles or hosting driving day experiences that allow visitors to drive their dream cars round a purpose built track.

The Royal Highland Centre is connected to the registered charity, RHASS (The Royal Highland Agricultural Society of Scotland). Since 1784, the society plays a pivotal role in the creation of a better understanding of the management of Scotland's land and rural resources. The RHC is also affiliated with the Royal Highland Show.

About The Royal Highland and Agricultural Society of Scotland (RHASS)

RHASS is Scotland's agricultural charity and is the leading voice for Scottish agriculture and the rural community. Founded in 1784 with the guiding principles to promote the regeneration of rural Scotland, those principles still ring true today. In 2024 and beyond, the charity strives for new ways to preserve, educate and support the industry and people who live and work in the Scottish countryside, by uniting communities and investing in innovation, education, wellbeing and the environment.

We are a membership charity, with 16,000 members. This community built on a legacy of integrity, honesty and genuine care for the countryside and people who have dedicated their lives to it. Our Members play a key role in helping RHASS to realise Scotland's agricultural ambitions.

We support these communities through our funding and awards, which empowers farmers, rural businesses, charities and individuals. We fund projects that help advance Scottish agriculture through innovation, wellbeing and sustainable practices, fund placements which educate and connect people to opportunities, fund our partner charities and organisations who work in and for the people of rural Scotland (RHET (Royal Highland Educational Trust), RSABI, Farmstrong and SAYFC) and further support the sector through our Local Show Engagement fund.

We're known for the delivery of the largest gathering of the agricultural community in the UK, the Royal Highland Show. Held annually, the Show is one of Scotland's most iconic events, and RHASS' biggest fundraiser. Showcasing the best of farming, food and rural life at the Royal Highland Centre in Ingliston the event attracts over 1,000 exhibitors, 4,500 livestock and up to 217,000 visitors.

